

EXCLUSION PROCEDURE

PURPOSE OF PROCEDURE

This procedure is intended to provide a broad framework and set of principles used to identify students who are not achieving a satisfactory level of academic progress, so that students may take steps to improve their academic performance, including learning support and counselling. The procedure sets out the consequences of unsatisfactory academic progress and the process of excluding students from further study. This procedure complies with National Code Standard 10 for International students Monitoring Course Progress (2007).

INTRODUCTION

This procedure applies to all TriSector students. TriSector aims to assist all students to successfully complete their course of study and will only exclude a student as a last resort. If a student encounters difficulties with their studies, it is crucial that they notify teaching staff or The Director of Operations at the earliest opportunity. This procedure should be read in conjunction with TriSector 'Student Complaints and the TriSector Student Manual.

INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS

Standard 10 of the National Code 2007, Monitoring Course Progress requires registered providers to have a documented procedure for course progression and an intervention strategy.

MONITORING COURSE PROGRESSION PROCEDURE

This procedure describes how TriSector will:

- Systematically monitor, record and assess the course progression of each student for each unit of the course they are enrolled in;
- Be proactive in notifying, supporting and counselling students who are at risk of failing to meet course progression requirements.

For international students, this procedure also describes the circumstances in which TriSector will report students via PRISMS if students do not meet course progress requirements.

This procedure ensures TriSector's compliance with Standard 10 of the National Code. This procedure articulates TriSector's practices as they apply to International Students in compliance with the ESOS Act 2000 and Standard 10 of the National Code 2007.

UNSATISFACTORY ACADEMIC PROGRESS

A student's academic progress will be deemed unsatisfactory and the student will be considered "at risk" if the student:

- i. Has failed any module for a second time; or
- ii. Does not maintain a minimum pass rate of 50% of modules undertaken in a semester. In the context of this procedure, fail includes "withdraw fail" and "did not sit" in respect of any module.
 - a) A student who meets any of the criteria for unsatisfactory academic progress is given a status of "at risk of exclusion" to indicate that the student is performing at an unsatisfactory level and must take action to improve their performance to avoid possible exclusion.
 - b) At the end of each study period, students who meet the criteria for unsatisfactory progress are identified and are notified that they have a status of "at risk".
 - c) The status of "at risk" applies to the student for the next study period
 - d) The notification of "at risk" status is provided to students as soon as practicable after the release of grades for the study period.

CONSEQUENCES OF “AT RISK OF EXCLUSION” STATUS

A student who has a status of “At Risk” for a study period is required to consult the Director of Operations about their academic progress. The Trainer or Director of Operations must maintain a record of the consultation. If the student fails to consult the Trainer or Director of Operations, this fact may be taken into account in a future review of the student’s academic progress.

The Trainer or Director of Operations may specify a study program that the student is required to undertake in that study period and may recommend other actions which the student may take to improve their performance. Where a study program is specified, the details are to be advised to the student in writing and placed on the student’s file.

A student who has a status of “at risk” is advised to consult TriSector’s Director of Operations and to avail themselves of the academic and personal support services that may assist their academic progress.

EXCLUSION

A student may be excluded if they are eligible for “at risk” status on the basis of their academic record in at least two study periods out of the most recent three study periods in which the student has one or more finalised grades. Where a student has an academic record consisting of only two study periods with finalised grades, and is eligible for “at risk” status in both study periods, the student may be excluded. The Director of Operations will make a recommendation to the Education Board that a student should be excluded. A student who is excluded is not permitted to attend classes or undertake study in the course from which they were excluded or re-enrol in the same course at TriSector for at least two standard academic terms.

APPEAL AGAINST EXCLUSION

A student who is excluded may lodge an appeal against exclusion under TriSector’s Complaints and Appeals Procedure.

READMISSION FOLLOWING EXCLUSION

A student who is excluded may apply for readmission to the course from which they were excluded or for admission into a new course, providing that at least two standard semesters have elapsed since the exclusion. An application for readmission following exclusion or for admission to a new course is not automatically approved.

An application for readmission, following exclusion, or for admission into a new course will be assessed by the Compliance Manager on the advice of the Trainer and Director of Operations. The Compliance Manager will consider factors such as changed circumstances, academic and/or vocational performance since exclusion, maturity and motivation in order to be satisfied that the person concerned has a reasonable chance of success in the course.

SUCCESSFUL READMISSION FOLLOWING EXCLUSION

Where a student’s application for readmission after exclusion is approved, they will be placed on “at risk” status for the relevant study period. The conditions applying to students with a status of “at risk” of exclusion set out in “At Risk of Exclusion” apply.
